

WERNER NO HERO; "RESCUE" A FAKE, HEIRESS WIFE SAYS

Former Giulia Morosini Declares Ex-Policeman Never Saved Her Life.

READY TO PROVE STORY

Whole Thing Was, a Press Agent's Yarn, Close Friend Asserts.

Apparently not content with seeking an annulment of her marriage to Arthur M. Werner, the former policeman, Mrs. Giulia Morosini Werner to-day pushed her husband from his place in the hero class.

It has been assumed for six years that Werner, while riding his beat on his educated police horse, "Mr. Jones," stopped a runaway and saved the life of the then Giulia Morosini, thereby earning a place in her regard that eventually brought about their marriage.

But Mrs. Werner authorized to-day, through a friend, the statement that Werner never saved her life. The runaway, according to Mrs. Werner, was a myth. If Werner denies her statement she is prepared, her friend says, to establish by documentary evidence that Werner employed a press agent to spread among the newspapers the story of the alleged heroic deed.

The friend of Mrs. Werner called to mind the fact that nothing was printed about the heroic rescue at the time it was alleged to have occurred. The story came out many months later, when Werner was employed by the late Giovanni Morosini to act as superintendent of the big estate at Riverdale.

FATHER'S LOVE FOR HORSES LED TO FIRST MEETING.

According to Mrs. Werner, her father first met Werner when the latter was a mounted policeman attached to the Highbridge precinct. Werner's beat took in Riverdale avenue, which skirts the Morosini property. The elder Morosini was a great lover of horses and was attracted by Werner's fine mount. From casual conversation the two men became great friends, and finally Mr. Morosini offered Werner the position of superintendent of the estate.

Werner, the friends of Mrs. Werner say, has never lost his liking for policemen. For a long time it was his custom to entertain mounted cops on the Elmhurst property. On one occasion Inspector Schmittberger made a night raid on the Elmhurst barns and found several police horses there. Two policemen were dismissed as a result of this raid.

Mrs. Werner has heard recently of several parties given by her husband at Elmhurst during her absence in the South last September. These parties were elaborate affairs. At one of them, at least, the guest of honor was a woman who, Werner said, was his cousin. Servants in the household have since told Mrs. Werner that the guest was Werner's former wife. HUSBAND WILL BE ALLOWED TO PACK HIS CLOTHES.

Announcement was made to-day at Elmhurst that Werner will be allowed to enter the house on Thursday morning between 10 o'clock and noon for the purpose of collecting and removing his personal effects. The information was spread through Arthur H. Coombs, the new manager of the estate.

"I see," said Mr. Coombs, "that Mrs. Werner says the situation up here."

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder Trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid, which excites the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, backache, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delicious drink, combined with water, which every one should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

School Girls Home From Trip to Europe; Got the Cane Habit!

FOURTEEN BEAUTIES AND MASCOT "PANTS" BACK FROM EUROPE

"Finishing Class" of the Finch School Picked Up Some Knowledge and Canes.

It would be difficult to find fourteen more beautiful girls than those of the "Finishing class" of the Finch School, who returned from Europe on the George Washington of the North German Lloyd to-day. The crowd on the pier awaiting friends gazed at the beauties as they tripped down the gangway, each of them twirling a cane and all carefully watched over by a chaperone.

The girls, who are graduates of the Finch School, No. 61 East Seventy-seventh street, went abroad under the chaperonage of Miss Helen Husted on Jan. 8. They have since visited all the points of interest in Italy, Switzerland and Paris. The primary objective of the trip was study, but the girls, when the chaperone was not looking, admitted that they had managed to have a lot of fun and that a few of them had received proposals.

The girls had the best time in Venice. In the city of the Doges they traversed all the canals, fed the pigeons in front of St. Mark's and picked up an assortment of canes. Coming over on the George Washington they were the life of the ship. The chaperone gave a sigh of relief when the steamer came alongside the pier at Hoboken.

The "Finishing class" consisted of Cornelia Adams, Dorothy Aiken, Jessie Burbach, Gladys Connell, Josephine Hannaborton, Queen Hughes, Ethel Johnson, Margaret Lambert, Georgiana Leabetter, Louise Lentz, Dorothy Owen, Helen Perkins and Irene Wisneman. Miss Burbach, who is from Erie, Pa., was the bearer of the party's mascot, a stuffed dog named "Pants."

Women Hysterical in Court When Judge Sentences Sterling Debutante Men.

Declaring that residents of New York with itching palms must learn that they cannot satisfy their greed for money by bleeding the people of America, United States Judge Anderson to-day imposed sentences of six years each on George H. Middlebrook, Frank W. Shumacher and Harry H. Platt, officials of the Sterling Debutante Corporation. Benjamin C. Mudge, an inventor, was given four years and Elwyn A. Barron, Wilbur M. Stone and W. S. Edwards three years each. All were connected with the corporation.

Platt collapsed when the sentence was imposed, but was revived immediately. Shumacher's wife fainted in the arms of her son, while the wives and daughters of other defendants wept hysterically.

Judge Anderson's arraignment of the convicted men was caustic, and even before the sentences were imposed it was seen that none of the prisoners would be given suspended sentences.

No indication was given as to the disposition of Frank E. Winchell and Samuel Findlay, who pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial and were used as government witnesses.

"Two or three of these defendants appeal to my sympathies," said Judge Anderson, "but I cannot disregard the facts that they had several opportunities to quit and failed to take them. They were investigated by the Post-Office Inspectors. They knew they were under suspicion. Their present assertion that they did not know what was going on is absurd."

"The attorneys speak of good reputations enjoyed by these men. Persons must have good reputations to obtain the confidence of people so as to operate such a business."

"If I understand right, the Oxford Lincoln Mills were not the only exploitations illegally undertaken by these people. The Teletop Company was another of their schemes. They appropriated the hard earnings of poor school teachers, milliners, farmers and laborers."

"It is perfectly plain that the representations of the company were outrageously false. The stock dividends were paid from stock sales to what the appetites of investors."

The defendants are all guilty, but my sympathies go out to Mr. Barron more than to the others. He is not a business man and he was sought after and pursued by Schumacher. He was a literary man, an idealist and he had brains. Because of this I think he could not have been entirely innocent."

"The defendants have taken an enormous amount of money, according to my standards. Perhaps it is not enormous, according to New York standards, but it seems enormous to me. For that reason I impose these sentences."

Would-Be Deserter Jumps Overboard.

Filled in two attempts to desert the ship on a voyage to the west coast of South America, L. P. Hansen, a Danish youth, second cook on the steamer Caledonia, jumped overboard last Saturday as the vessel was approaching New York and was drowned. His shipmates said that Hansen, who joined the crew here, feared, for some reason, to return to New York.

GUILLOTINE READY TO AVENGE WRONGS OF MEXICAN WOMEN

Gutierrez, Rebel General Whose Relatives Have Vanished, Has One Built.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 7.—The guillotine has made its appearance in Mexico and a new form of execution confronts the enemies of the Constitutionalists in San Luis Potosi, it was learned to-day. At Concepcion del Oro, a home-made guillotine has been erected. It was built by rebel mechanics in the corps commanded by Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez, who is now in this city conferring with Carranza.

Already the new instrument has been tested, and, as the General says, "it works splendidly." The test was made with a lamb as the victim.

Desire for revenge is responsible for the appearance of the guillotine in Mexico. Gen. Gutierrez's brother-in-law, Jose Morales, was killed some time ago in battle against the Federalists near Saltillo. The family of Morales, including an infant daughter and Gutierrez's sister, were living in Saltillo.

The Federal commander arrested the relatives of Gutierrez, placed them aboard a troop train and sent them to San Luis Potosi. The baby died of exposure on the way, and nothing is known of the fate of the other members of the family.

From stories told by rebels, this is only one of the many instances where the women and children of rebel officers have been taken from Saltillo by the Federalists and sent to other cities and to supposedly horrible fates. It is said that in some cases the women have been given to the Federal soldiers.

Gen. Gutierrez says he will leave Juarez in two or three days to resume his campaign against San Luis Potosi. "My outposts are within eight kilometers of the capital of that state and I expect to capture the place this time. Fourteen thousand men are under arms in the state and I can send them all against the city. And when I have taken it I hope to find my sister and her family. If they have been mistreated the guillotine is ready for action."

FILM COMPANY CUTS $1,858,000 MELON

Anso Firm Stockholders Profit by Litigation Over Eastman Kodak Rights.

As a result of successful patent litigation against the Eastman Kodak Company, the Anso Company of Birmingham, N. Y., has cut a juicy melon for its stockholders amounting to $1,858,000. This is more than the combined capital stock and bonded indebtedness of the company.

The Anso Company has outstanding $1,000,000 worth of common stock, $200,000 in preferred stock and $500,000 in bonds. According to the announcement made to-day the common stockholders will receive a 100 per cent. dividend, amounting to a round million dollars, while the preferred stock and the bonds will be bought in and returned at 110.

The original patentee of the sensitized film for cameras was Rev. Hannibal H. Goodwin, of Newark, who is now dead.

He disposed of his rights to the Anso Company, which has been carrying on the litigation. Mr. Goodwin's widow, who still lives, will not share richly in the dividend. Officers of the company are: T. W. Stephens, President, New York; and G. W. Topf, Vice-President, and General Manager, Birmingham.

No official statement has been made of the amount paid by the Eastman Company to the Anso Company in settlement of the court's decree, but it is supposed to have been more than $2,000,000.

SANDALS, BARE FEET AND TOE-RINGS SEEN IN PUBLIC IN PARIS

MLLE PROVOST

Sandals, with bare feet and toe rings, are the latest fad in Paris. Jewellers are already busy making toe rings with settings to match the color of the sandals.

The new fashion was started by Mlle. Jeanne Provost, the dainty actress who launched the trouser skirt. She made her debut in the crowded foyer of the Theatre Rejane during a dress rehearsal with her bare feet shod in pretty sandals, which were fastened around her shapely ankles by cross ribbons in the old Greek style.

"Why should women cram their feet into narrow boots with four-inch heels?" she said later. "It's delightful to have the feet quite free."

CAILLAUX TELLS SECRETS OF LIFE WITH FIRST WIFE

Bargained for Letters Woman Had and These Were Burned, Then Came Divorce.

THEY WERE PERSONAL.

Not Connected with Fabre Report Publication of Which Present Wife Feared.

PARIS, April 7.—The question whether Joseph Caillaux, former Minister of Finance, may be charged as an accessory of his wife in the assassination of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, is the subject of general discussion in the newspapers to-day. The publication of the testimony of President Poincaré, indicating that Caillaux had at least influenced his wife's action, has given rise to the suggestion that he may be brought into the investigation as an accomplice.

The magistrate in charge of the preliminary inquiry, Henri Boucard, called both M. Caillaux and Louis Barthou, former Premier, for examination to-day and the two statesmen confronted each other in the presence of the magistrate.

Caillaux's testimony had to do with the publication of the personal letter in the Figaro, which led to the shooting, and in explaining his belief that Calmette held other letters which it was feared might be published. He declared that in 1909 two letters addressed to Mme. Rainoard, now his wife, disappeared from his desk. One of these was a sixteen page letter, telling intimate details of his life and also giving reasons why he was unable to obtain an immediate divorce. Mme. Gueydan was then Caillaux's wife.

I asked my wife to restore the missing letters, then divorce me or become reconciled," said Caillaux. "The latter was accepted and the letters were burned in the presence of witnesses. I asked if any photographs of the letters were in existence, and my wife said there were not."

Caillaux was then divorced in 1911.

REGARDS ROCKEFELLER AS DUMMY DIRECTOR

Congressman Plans New Legislation Based on Testimony Given by the Young Man.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Legislation against "dummy" directors may be recommended to the House by the committee as the result of John D. Rockefeller's testimony yesterday. Chairman Foster held to-day that while John D. Rockefeller Jr. may be the power behind the throne in the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, he is nevertheless a "dummy" director by virtue of his absence from meetings for several years, and from his lack of personal supervision of the strike field.

"Rockefeller's testimony gave me an idea which I am now turning over in my mind," said Mr. Foster to-day. "I think there ought to be some legislation against dummy directors. Something is needed to bring closer contact between the company—the head men—and the employees. Just what Congress can do about it is a matter of doubt just now, but I think Rockefeller's talk showed we need some change."

Foster paid tribute to the young millionaire as "a very clever young man who side-stepped well."

Ancient and Honorable Next? as to the date of the wedding, and there was no confirmation from the White House.

The rumor was strengthened by the minds of many society folk by the elaborate trousseau preparations being made by Miss Wilson. It was said that Miss Wilson would not have purchased so many gowns, at a time when fashions are changing rapidly, if the wedding date were not fixed for the early spring.

SHIP AFLAME AT SEA.

Life Savers Try to Save Crew for Peril Off Scilly Islands.

ST. MARYS, Scilly Islands, April 7.—A barkentine, whose identity could not be established, was seen to-day in flames eight miles to the northwest of Bryher Island, one of the Scilly group. The crew had taken refuge in the rigging. A lifeboat was sent out to the burning vessel, which was rolling in a heavy sea.

8 TREATMENTS FOR $5

During the past six years, while my office was located in the Flatiron Building, a great many persons have come to me and told me that they would like very much to have me treat them for deafness, catarrh, and other manifestations of catarrh, but that they could not afford to pay my fee. Such persons have requested that I treat them for a lower rate than my usual fee. Owing to the fact that my facilities in the Flatiron Building would not allow me to care for the large number of patients that would be attracted by a low fee, I was compelled to keep my fee as they were. When my lease expired in the Flatiron Building and I moved into my new offices, No. 330 West 43d street, my office facilities were so much increased, and the arrangements of the office are so much better, that I have finally decided to reduce my fee for a limited time to a nominal price, so that all may afford to receive my treatment.

I take this opportunity of notifying all those who require treatment for catarrh troubles that during the month of April my fee for treatment will be a charge of $5.00 for eight complete treatments. This fee will include all necessary treatment and medicine. In order to take advantage of this low offer it will be necessary to visit my office and enroll your name on or before April the 30th. All patients who begin their treatment before May 1st will receive treatment as long as they require it without any increase in the fee.

My specialty is treating obstructed nostrils, treating deafness and head noises and hearing new places in the hearing tubes. I have spent thirty years studying the best way to do this. I can usually free the nostrils without coming into the home of the patient, thus saving the patient the expense of traveling to my office, and the time and trouble of waiting for a doctor to come.

I will be pleased to have you visit my office. It will cost you nothing for an examination and advice.
